RED RULE SNARLS GERMAN TRAVEL

Columbus Police Baffled By 2 Sadistic Sex-Slayings

COLUMBUS, April 1—Columbus police searched today for three men in connection with two apparently unconnected sadistic sex-slayings.

One man, about five feet nine inches tall, weighing about 165 pounds and about 40 years old, was sought for the killing of an unidentified red-haired woman whose almost nude body, beaten and stabbed more than 20 times, was found in bed in a cheap hotel room.

The other men were handy-men known to have been working near the east side residence of Herman Smilack who returned home last evening and found his wife, Marcella, 61, dead with her throat slashed by a 12-inch butcher knife.

Coroner Mitchell A. Spyker said she had been criminally assaulted.

Even Elements Can Play Jokes

By International News Service
Failure of predicted cold weather to return to Ohio today may be attributed to April 1—for even the elements are known to indulge in their little jokes on occasions.

The weather, however, was turning cooler. Showers were settling down to drizzles and some clearing was sighted for later today. More showers were forecast for tomorrow.

Weather bureau forecasters said that high temperatures would range between 50 and 60 degrees tonight, dropping into the high 30s tonight. Tomorrow's highs were estimated between 40 and 50 degrees.

General Eisenhower has been made a Boy Scout. He already has two invitations to help old parties across the street in Philadelphia.

The Boy Scouts awarded Ike the Silver Buffalo badge in 1946. Now a number of persons are trying to get him to accept the lead donkey or the brass elephant in 1948.

There's a man who can start a political fire by rubbing any two candidates together but there are no merit badges awarded for sticking your chin out.

We are making some progress on tax matters. The Senate has voted to admit exposed x-ray film into the country duty free.

Senate-House Unit Cuts Spain Off Foreign Aid List

Move Follows Truman Statement
He 'Utterly Opposed' To Idea

WASHINGTON, April 1—Senate and House conferees today eliminated Spain from sharing in the European Recovery Program.

This was disclosed by Sen. Connally, (D) Tex., ranking minority member of the senate foreign relations committee.

The conferees dropped Spain from the measure shortly after President Truman said that he was "utterly opposed" to including that country among the 16 other European nations which will share in the Marshall Plan.

The conferees decided that the 16 Marshall Plan nations of Western Europe must decide whether Franco's Spain shall be included in the mutual assistance machinery.

Connally said that dropping Spain from the program was the first action of the conferees at their morning meeting. They will resume deliberations this afternoon to reach agreement on the House and Senate revisions of the ERP measure.

The President's reaction to the action taken by the House in opening the door for inclusion of Spain among the nations receiving aid from this country was expressed by White House Secretary Charles G. Ross after conversing with Mr. Truman.

It was predicted before the Senate-House conferees met that they would remove Spain from the aid program.

THE CONFEREES met after the House approved last night its "one-package" bill providing $6.25 billion for Europe and China.

Before meeting the administration's April 1 deadline, the House reaffirmed its decision of the Axis.

Francisco maintains he resisted all pressure from Hitler and Mussolini to join up with the Axis.

He claims that if he had not done as he did, Gibraltar would have fallen swiftly to German troops crossing the Pyrenees from France, with the result that the Allies might not have won the battles of North Africa and perhaps would have lost the war.

Francisco has taken two major steps in an effort to win the friendship of the Democracies:

1—He formulated a succession law, creating a council of the realm providing for ultimate restoration of the monarchy.

2—He has concluded or is negotiating a peace treaty.

Rep. Eaton, (R) N. J., chairman of the House foreign affairs committee, who heads the House conferees, predicted however, that Spain will be dropped from the measure in today's conference.

Franco Said Eyeing Aid

Dictator May
Alter Government

MADRID, April 1—Persistent reports that Generalissimo Francisco Franco is contemplating a government change were revived today by action of the U. S. House of Representatives in tentatively designating Spain as a Marshall Plan beneficiary.

This move was greeted with joy throughout Spain, as have all previous steps linking the nation in any manner with the western bloc dedicated to the fight against expanding Communism.

Ever since the menace of Communism became recognized by the Democratic countries of the world, Franco's Spain has rested in the firm conviction that the world would recognize her as the strongest bulwark against Communism and an essential factor in the European Recovery Program.

THE SPANIARDS justify their neutrality during World War II on the grounds that this served the Allies best.

Francisco maintains he resisted all pressure from Hitler and Mussolini to join up with the Axis.

He claims that if he had not done as he did, Gibraltar would have fallen swiftly to German troops crossing the Pyrenees from France, with the result that the Allies might not have won the battles of North Africa and perhaps would have lost the war.

Deputies Seek Hungry Burglars

Pickaway County sheriff's deputies Thursday were on the lookout for a couple undernourished burglars in the Ashville area.

Sheriff Charles Radcliff reported the Ashville school was entered early Wednesday and the refrigerator in the kitchen ransacked.

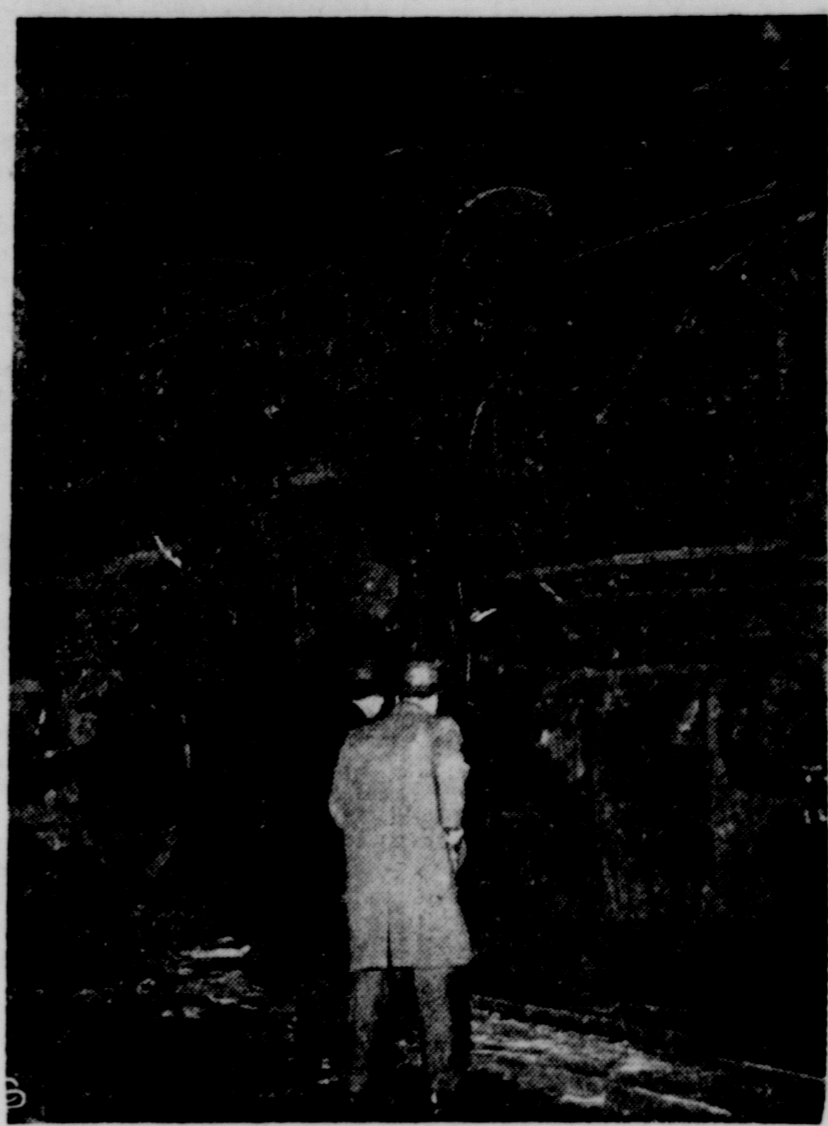

Listed missing was a quantity of food, chocolate milk and ice cream. Radcliff said entrance was gained by prying open a window.

City Marshal Reverses Order, Forces Tenant Into Apartment

NEW YORK, April 1—A City marshal, who usually put tenants out of apartments at the behest of landlords, has pulled a switch.

The marshal, Leo Marks, put a tenant back in her apartment over the protest of her landlord.

Armed with a pinbar to be used as a jimmy if necessary, and seven policemen, Marks restored Miss Rose Isaacson, a violinist, to her seven-room apartment, while the landlord's son muttered dire threats.

INVESTIGATORS LOOK OVER two locomotives after they had met head on in Jersey City, N. J. Two men were killed and a third injured in the accident. Police emergency workers had to use acetylene torches to free the injured man.

Vet Groups, Ohio Bishop Urge OK Of Draft, UMT

WASHINGTON, April 1—The American Legion urged Congress today to approve an immediate draft and Universal Military Training because "the blunt fact is that the United States is moving toward war at an accelerated pace."

James F. O'Neil, national commander of the Legion, asked approval of draft and UMT laws "without yielding to political considerations."

He said a "standby" draft in which young men would be registered but not called at once to service would be a "cowardly out" and an inexcusable exposure of the American people to danger.

O'Neil told the Senate armed services committee:

"The blunt fact is that the United States is moving toward war at an accelerated pace."

THE LEGION'S stand was backed up by the Veterans of Foreign Wars. Omar Ketchum, VFW legislative director, told the committee his organization would approve the induction, if needed, of veterans between 19 and 25 with less than 18 months previous service.

Ketchum said the VFW would exempt holders of the Purple Heart and hoped an effort would be made to grant special consideration to veterans with less than 18 months combat service.

Hope admitted that it would be "exceedingly difficult" to obtain any committee action without unanimous consent of its membership, including several last-ditch foes of the proposal.

Rep. Abernathy, (D) Ala., a leader in the fight to force action on the oleomargarine measure, declared himself confident that the petition would receive the majority support needed to force the bill out of committee.

The Rivers bill was only one of 19 considered by the committee. It would repeal the existing tax of 4 of a cent on uncolored margarine and two cents on each pound of colored margarine.

Windows and doors in the house were smashed and furniture was overturned and broken to the extent of $2,000, but Communist literature was left untouched.

Meanwhile, Governor Herbert's secretary, John Robert Jones, said a William Haber of Cleveland, representing the Ohio Civil Rights Congress, promised to visit Columbus to see if Hashmall's civil rights had been violated.

The Communist party has threatened to sue Franklin County and the Columbus Citizen in the matter. It is alleged that the Citizen inspired the attack on the Hashmall home and that it was "carried through by a German Nazi element, a military organization at Fort Hayes and followers of the Association of Catholic Trade Unionists."

Russians Stop Allied Trains

Inspections
Are Demanded

BERLIN, April 1—Severe new Soviet restrictions snarled all road and railway traffic in and out of Berlin today.

At least seven Allied military trains were held up at Helmstedt, 100 miles west of Berlin, pending return to their starting-points.

Gen. Lucius D. Clay, U. S. military governor of Germany, cancelled all American military railway traffic and substituted aerial freight between his Frankfurt headquarters and Tempelhof Air Field in Berlin until the situation is clarified.

The mixup resulted from Soviet orders empowering Russian troops to enter and inspect military trains and trucks entering the Soviet-occupied zones of Germany.

GEN. CLAY and the British occupational authorities declined to accept the Soviet ruling.

The trains held at Helmstedt embraced two American, two British and three French units.

Gen. Clay termed the Soviet restrictions an outright violation of the quadripartite agreement for control of Germany.

But in the face of this, the Russians went further and announced establishment of tight controls over all truck traffic in the Soviet sector of Berlin.

They established check-points inside the Russian zone on arteries leading into the American, British and French sectors.

American headquarters said that an unidentified Army officer and his wife were detained for half an hour at one such point and then released without being questioned.

THE FRENCH meanwhile announced that one of their trains detained at Marienborn was released and is due in Berlin this evening.

Presumably the French permitted Soviet troops to board the train for inspection.

$3 Billion Hike In U.S. Defense Budget Sought

WASHINGTON, April 1—President Truman today urged Congress to increase appropriations for defense by three billion 375 million dollars.

The President said that this increase is necessary "to round out and balance our national security program" and to "secure" a lasting peace.

Under the President's recommendations today the defense budget would be increased from $11 billion to 14 billion 375 million dollars.

Mr. Truman made his views known in a letter to House Speaker Martin.

The President's proposed overall appropriation increase included a $375 million item in contract authorizations for the Bureau of Federal Supply to permit additional stockpiling of critical materials.

The three billion dollar balance was broken down as follows:

Uranium Search In U.S. Ready

WASHINGTON, April 1—The Interior department today announced establishment of a reserve area of 40 square miles in Southwestern Colorado for use in search of uranium deposits.

The action was taken at the request of the Atomic Energy Commission, which will diamond drill the reserved area during the coming Summer.

Lands found to contain uranium—vital to the production of atomic energy—will become available for development and mining by private interests under arrangements with the government.

Chinese Reds Release Marines Nabbed Christmas

PEARL HARBOR, April 1—Pacific Fleet headquarters here announced today that four U. S. Marines held captive by Communist troops in North China since last Christmas have been released.

The announcement added that the body of a fifth Marine who died of wounds received in a brush with the Chinese Communist forces, will be returned to American authorities shortly.

The news was contained in a message to Pearl Harbor from Vice Admiral O. C. Badger, commander of the U. S. naval forces of the Western Pacific, based at Tsingtao on North China's Shantung peninsula.

Adm. Badger reported that the four Marines, freed after more than three months of Communist captivity, are aboard the USS George Clymer en route to Tsingtao from Haiyang in North China.

HEADQUARTERS announced a thorough investigation of the entire episode is in progress under the direction of Brig. Gen. G. C. Thomas, Fleet Marine commander for the Western Pacific.

The five Marines were on a hunting party north of the Seventh Fleet's base at Tsingtao when they encountered the Chinese Communist troops that took them prisoners after an exchange of fire.

Belle Of Yukon, Now 68, To Wed Timid, Second-Fiddle Suiter

VANCOUVER, Wash., April 1—Klondike Kate, the belle of the Yukon, will hear wedding bells here for her second marriage today.

A judge waived Washington's three-day wait for a marriage license for Mrs. Kate Rockwell Matson, now 68, the toast of Alaska dance halls in the gold rush days, and her fiancé, W. L. Van Duren, a Bend, Ore., accountant.

Van Duren said, "I've been in love with Kate for a long time, but John Matson said the words I wanted to say and said them first. This time I decided I wouldn't let anyone beat me out."

deep stab wounds and severe bruises mottled her body.

Three empty whisky bottles and a pocketknife believed to be the murder weapon were found in the room.

Police said the woman was about five feet five inches tall, weighed about 130 pounds and her hair was a natural brown, dyed red.

A hotel bell-boy, Delbert Foster, said the couple left the hotel about 9:30 p. m. Tuesday and returned an hour and a half later in an intoxicated condition.

HE SAID he later found them wandering around the hotel corridors, arguing and that he directed them to their room.

Foster said the man returned to the lobby around midnight, smoked a cigarette while playing a pin-ball machine, then left, taking a southbound taxicab.

Smilack found his wife's body at the foot of his cellar steps where it apparently had been carried. The outer clothing was disarranged and the underclothing was badly torn.

Police said they believed Mrs. Smilack was killed at the kitchen sink where the blood-stained butcher knife was found.

A trail of blood indicated she had been dragged to the head of the cellar steps.

Neighbors told police Mrs. Smilack had been home alone all day. She was last seen working in her front yard shortly after noon.

There were gashes on her left forearm, her left chest and upper left arm showing that she had tried to defend herself from her attacker, police said.

Amandaite Jailed; Forgot New Tags

Paul D. Young, of Amanda Route 1, is awaiting trial on a bond of $10 (the cost of a new set of license plates), the first man apprehended by Circleville police for violating the tag deadline set for midnight Wednesday.

Young was apprehended traveling through town at 2:15 a. m. Thursday, and is to appear before Mayor Thurman I. Miller Friday night.

Russian-controlled area of the capital was banned between 11 p. m. and 6 a. m. daily.

American military authorities were advised that day-time trucks may cross the boundaries of the Soviet zone only with special permits from the Russians.

Checking points were set up at all entrances to the sector, particularly at the famed Brandenburg gate on the Unter Den Linden.

Gen. Clay announced that the present aerial transportation was an interim measure pending a Soviet reply to his note of yesterday protesting against the new regulations.

He stressed that this traffic would not be under Soviet control and would handle freight as well as passengers.

LT. GEN. SIR Brian Robertson, British military commander, is expected to establish similar communication between headquarters at Frankfurt and the British-run Gatow airport in Berlin.

French military authorities are studying the situation and will await Soviet answer to the Anglo-American protest before revealing future action.

The President estimated that the government would spend $1.7 billion of the three billion in the next fiscal year.

Gas Equipment Ban Is Relaxed

COLUMBUS, April 1—The State Utilities Commission relaxed the ban on gas heating equipment today to permit installation of heaters in new homes and conversion to gas equipment in old homes.

The order modifying the commission's original edict of last Oct. 3, stipulated that new installations and conversions must be made at the same rate, and must not outstrip the individual gas companies' capacity to supply service.

The commission ruled, however, that top priority must be given to conversions in hardship cases.

Chairman Harry M. Miller said the ultimate result of the order, effective at noon today, will be to place responsibility for service on the gas companies.

City Bombarded With Pamphlets

Circleville was "bombarded" from the air Thursday afternoon. Virgil Newman piloted a light plane from Thomas Airport to assist in the official April 1 start of a campaign drive for the American Cancer Society.

About 4,000 pamphlets were dropped over the city to start off the month-long, Pickaway County drive.

Finnish Chiefs Reject Red Arms Idea, Report

HELSINKI, April 1—Parliamentary leaders in Finland were reported today to have rejected a Soviet proposal that Russia be permitted to send Red Army troops into Finland whenever Moscow believes a threat of aggression exists.

The Soviet demand was made during negotiations in Moscow on a pact of mutual military assistance between Finland and Russia.

The treaty talks in the Soviet capital were reported snaggled by the Finnish opposition spearheaded by Socialists in parliament.

The next few days are expected to be crucial as the Finns and Russians maneuver to reach some settlement.

The Finnish stand is that no Soviet military aid should be given unless the Helsinki government itself requests it.

President Juho Paasikivi met for 90 minutes with parliamentary leaders in a session which was reported "tense."

Moscow dispatches said meanwhile that a very strong impression prevails among observers that the Finns are "very happy" about the terms offered by Russia.

Coast Guard Papers Ready

Pickaway County Coast Guard veterans who have been discharged from the service since Dec. 7, 1941, now are eligible for honorable discharges.

An estimated 12,000 Coast Guardsmen in the state are eligible but so far have not applied for the honorable discharge papers.

At the termination of their services, Coast Guardsmen were issued "ordinary discharges" or "discharges under honorable conditions."

Even with those papers, the veterans are eligible for all servicemen's benefits, but regulations at the time of their discharge did not allow honorable discharges.

Red Blood Cells Must Be Kept Up If You Want To Feel Alive

Thousands Now Regain Old Time Pep, Vigor and Drive By Releasing Vibrant Energy To Every Muscle, Fibre, Cell

Overwork, undue worry, and lack of certain foods often reduce the red-blood strength—and starved, weak, puny blood just hasn't the power to keep up your energy and drive.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloating and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. SSS Tonic helps Build Strong Health.

O'Neill said Wallace demonstrated an "appalling ignorance" for a man "who occupied a high government position during World War II."

THE RT. REV. Henry W. Hobson, Episcopal Bishop of Southern Ohio, made an equally strong plea for the draft and UMT.

The bishop urged that America "speak in terms the Soviet Union will understand—that we will resist further aggression and that that statement will be backed up by armed strength."

Taft Raps U.S. Housing Rules; Asks Revision

WASHINGTON, April 1—Sen. Taft, (R) Ohio, has gone on record claiming the federal housing policy "inflated the economy by $5 billion" last year.

Taft made the statement in urging a revision of housing loan procedure at a Senate Banking committee hearing. He was appearing in behalf of the Taft-Elliott-Wagner housing bill.

The Ohioan said that if he had his way he'd put an immediate stop to "title six" mortgage insurance, whereby housing mortgages of up to 90 percent are guaranteed.

He labeled that section of the National Housing Act "completely unsound as a financing proposition."

Taft urged that the guarantee be cut to 80 or 85 percent. He added:

"Such liberal credit violates every principle against inflation that Congress has been following."

Taft said the amended TEW bill, which may be reported out of the banking committee next week, would be "pushed as fast as possible."

U.S. To Press For UN Parley On Palestine

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., April 1—The United States will attempt to press the UN Security Council for a decision today in favor of an Arab-Jewish truce and a special General Assembly session on Palestine by April 15.

U. S. Representative Warren R. Austin is planning to urge the 11-nation body to act speedily in turning the Palestine problem over to the 57-nation gathering.

Soviet Delegate Andrei Gromyko already has disclosed his opposition to the special session and is certain to stage further objections to Austin's endeavors.

At the moment, the American request to the security council for a special assembly "to consider the future government of Palestine" and a temporary trusteeship in place of partition has a majority of seven votes in sight.

THE LINEUP on that question, if it comes to the vote at the afternoon council meeting, apparently will find France, China, Belgium, Colombia and Canada voting on the side of the United States.

Argentina has been undecided and may yet abstain. In that case there is ground to assume that Syria will vote for a special session with the reservation that partition as a final solution in Palestine is rejected by the Arabs.

Britain has consistently maintained that as a partner to the issue on Palestine, she forfeits her vote and therefore has abstained each time. This leaves only the Ukraine and Russia to vote negatively or to abstain.

Students Hear Mining Expert

Circleville high school students Wednesday heard a vocational lecture on mining engineering from Professor Nold, chairman of the mining engineering department of Ohio State university.

The lecture, seventh of a series sponsored by Circleville Kiwanis and Rotary clubs, was to familiarize students with the prerequisites and curriculum studied at college for a given vocation.

Following the lecture, Nold held a conference with students who registered interest in the vocation, and gave them an insight to the type of work associated with the title of mining engineer.

Schools Plan Observance Of Conservation

The month of April has been designated as Conservation Week in Ohio for the purpose of educating Ohio youngsters as to what their surrounding environment means to them.

Arthur R. Harper, field naturalist for the Ohio Division of Conservation and Natural Resources, visited the office of County School Superintendent George D. McDowell Thursday in order to gain support from the county schools in the program.

"The main reason for Conservation Month," said Harper, "is to acquaint the boys and girls with natural resources which play such an important part in their lives."

"We try to bring the functions of nature into the classroom laboratory, where an analysis may be held to show how best the assets we now have in nature may be conserved."

"IT IS ESPECIALLY important that Pickaway County youngsters be guided along conservation lines, since topsoil nature has made fertile for the past five hundred years is being eroded and carried away by the streams at an alarming rate."

McDowell said many of the county schools would plan special programs during April dealing with conservation, and that the school week from April 19 to 23 has been set aside as Conservation Week.

Spanish Aid Ruled Out

...chairman of the Senate foreign relations committee and head of the Senate conferees, is understood to regard inclusion of Spain as ill-timed and improper.

House action in providing aid for Spain caused perturbation in the State department which insists that the 16-power group of Western powers meeting in Paris would decide whether Spain should be taken into ERP.

The United States has no regular diplomatic relations with Spain. The American ambassador was withdrawn in accordance with a resolution adopted in 1946 by the United Nations censuring the Franco government. At present there is an American charge d'affaires in Madrid.

TEACHING JAPS DEMOCRACY

Circleville Sailor Helps Cleanup Of Enemy Land

Seaman Second Class Jerry Anderson, whose mother lives at 154 East Water street, is described as a specialized gadget man in Yokosuka, Japan.

The sailor's name appeared recently in a Red Cross news release telling of the work of men like Jerry who are currently serving Uncle Sam in the occupation forces over there.

Jerry's base is not far from Tokyo and during the war was one of Japan's main harbors.

His job at present is a repair man for radar, sonar and radio equipment, requiring him to work all day with delicate gadgets.

THE RED CROSS story specialized in Columbus and vicinity servicemen now in the land of the geisha girls. Men and women from Bexley, New Boston, Washington C. H., Sabina and Upper Arlington, all serving to teach the once wayfaring Nips the meaning of Democracy.

In some way they are all serving. They're pounding typewriters and driving busses; piloting airplanes and teaching school.

Others are keeping house, serving the American Red Cross and acting as policemen, telephone operators, ambulance attendants and cooks.

On holidays, the Buckeyes abroad hop the "Reserved for Allied Forces" busses or Japanese trains and take off to see the countryside.

Some go to Atami for bathing, others to Shiga Heights and Akakura in the Japanese Alps while still more attempt to climb sacred Mt. Fuji.

But even with all the exotic beauty of the Japanese countryside they all agree— "There's no place like home."

Super-Safety Record Set

Auto Dealers Hit By Court

COLUMBUS, April 1—Specific performance of a contract to sell a new car because of a down payment of $50 has been ordered by the state supreme court.

The Conart Sales, Inc., of Akron was ordered to deliver immediately a new Plymouth automobile to Carl J. Demoss.

Demoss said that on Aug. 29, 1945, he ordered the car and the company accepted a down payment of $50. More than a year later, he said, the company had such a car but refused to sell it to him on the grounds his 1946 Ford was too old for a trade-in.

Murder-Suicide Ends Triangle Affair In Tokyo

TOKYO, April 1—An American lieutenant stationed in Tokyo shot and killed a Japanese woman and then committed suicide yesterday while his wife and child, who had arrived in Japan three days ago, slept in an adjoining room.

Authorities of the U. S. First Cavalry Division, of which he was a member, identified the officer as Lt. Benjamin Pickler Jr., 30, of Buena Vista, Tenn.

The Japanese woman slain in the climax to a triangle love situation was Chiyoko Wurobe, 31, a housemaid in Lt. Pickler's quarters hut billet before the officer's wife and four-year-old daughter arrived from America.

Before committing the murder, suicide, according to investigators, Lt. Pickler wrote a note to Army authorities, stating:

"I must kill this woman I have learned to love so much."

Officials said the tragedy occurred after Pickler, his wife and the Japanese woman had stayed up until 2 o'clock in the morning, talking over their triangular love problem. The conference was held after Pickler told his wife that he loved Chi-

Chiefs Lack Intelligence Today, Claim

UN Leader Asks Support Of Panel

RIO DE JANEIRO, April 1—Dr. Oswaldo Aranha, president of the UN General Assembly, said today there is "need for an intelligent desire for peace," something which he finds "lacking among the leaders of all the great nations."

Dr. Aranha said: "Each day the news becomes more alarming and incredible. It seems elementary that the world's leaders of today should be aligned toward an understanding of world problems."

"Instead one feels ever stronger the mounting conviction that differences can only be settled by war."

"The war of 1914 was caused by a lack of understanding, and that of 1939 by madness. Another war would be suicidal."

Referring to the spread of Communism in Europe, the UN assembly president continued:

"ALTHOUGH the Communist vanguards in Democratic countries will continue their policies of constant tension, I have confidence that our human intelligence will find means of stopping them without resorting to the fatal clash."

Dr. Aranha said the globe needs an intelligent desire for peace. He continued:

"Whenever wars end, men are inclined to unite in associations whose names have varied through history. The functions of these associations have always been to create favorable conditions for the new times ahead."

"What remains for us to do now is to support without reserve this organization, which during its bare three years of existence has proved itself able to meet problems of relatively grave nature."

The United States has more square miles of coal-bearing lands than Great Britain, Eire and France have in their total area.

Travel Warning Is Issued

NEW YORK, April 1—Harry M. Paulsen, president of the American Society of Travel Agents, recently issued a warning that the demand for ship accommodations across the Atlantic, during the peak Summer months, more than likely will exceed the supply.

There still are only 32 good-class passenger ships in service to both Atlantic and Mediterranean ports. The total monthly passenger-carrying capacity of those 32 ships is 27,632.

Suction Used On Harvester

DAVIS, Calif., April 1—A new-type suction almond harvester, which recovers 99.5 percent of all nuts from smooth ground recently had California ranchers agape.

The almond growers recently watched a demonstration of the machine at a Farm Machinery Conference of the University of California College of Agriculture.

Search Parties Locate Wreck Of Downed Ship

KINGSTON, N. Y., April 1—Searching parties early today located the wreckage of a two-engine airplane which crashed and burned last night atop Moon Mountain, about 23 miles from here.

Identity of the plane was not definitely determined, but it was feared to be an Air Force bomber, hours overdue on a routine training flight from Westover Field, Mass., to Stewart Field, near Newburgh, N. Y.

The overdue plane was reported to have a crew of three aboard. The Ulster County sheriff's office said that six youths, who made their way to the heavily wooded section of the mountain, reported that they saw two bodies in the wreckage.

The youths climbed back down the mountain to Moon H lodge, a mile and a half from the crash scene.

A searching party from the Stewart Field Air Force base, which included Air Force investigators, set out for the crash scene.

The rescue parties were hampered by heavy rain in the region. The downed plane was said to be five miles from the nearest good road.

Sheriff Set To Aid In Safety

Caution Urged By Officials

Pickaway County traffic officials have chosen April for Operation Safety in a drive to make this county the safest in the state. Sheriff Charles Radcliff said he would offer his forces in cooperation with those of the state highway patrol and city police to reduce traffic hazards and emphasize precaution both for the driver and pedestrian.

Efforts on the part of Pickaway County will be geared with those of the Ohio Safety Council to make Ohio a leader in traffic safety.

Records maintained by the council show that most traffic accidents occur within 25 miles of the victim's home.

OFFICIALS point up the fact that the biggest percentage of mishaps involve pedestrians.

Sheriff Radcliff urged parents to be particularly careful with their children with longer daylight hours in the evening. He said:

"Children should be discouraged from playing on streets and roadways."

He reminded motorists that "a child at play is a warning signal. Approach and pass him cautiously," the sheriff continued.

Traffic officials point out that cars are better equipped than ever for safety, but declared "they won't travel safely unless they are driven safely."

Skulls and other portions of the three-toed horse, and other prehistoric animals have been found near Challis and Salmon, Idaho.

Many Autos On Road Said Guilty Of Mis-Aimed Headlights, Claim

Although the development of sealed beam headlighting (used on almost all passenger cars since 1940) represents an outstanding engineering achievement, its successful contribution to safer night driving depends heavily upon the driver and his willingness to use it as it was designed to be used.

According to recent reports of the International Association of Chiefs of Police which disclosed that one out of every six cars on the road today needs essential lamps, many motorists are guilty of driving "one-eyed" cars. In addition, uncounted millions have mis-aimed headlights.

With the promise of good weather ahead, thousands of motorists will take to the highways. Family outings and vacation trips may call for night time driving, making it imperative to have both head lamps lighted and properly adjusted.

Often, drivers are unaware that they are guilty of these offenses which endanger not only their own lives but the lives of others as well. However, both faults are easily remedied when given the proper maintenance care by the garage where you purchased the car or by a reputable service station.

NOW THAT fewer lamps are needed for jeeps, war planes and other military equipment, the lamps are in fairly free supply, and it will take you only a few minutes to have the lamp replaced.

The new all-glass sealed beam headlamp has been improved by General Electric research to give 12 percent more light on the road and 16 percent more light when passing other cars.

Keeping these amazing lamps correctly aimed, however, and making proper use of their two beams is a responsibility that rests with the motorist.

Because the tungsten filament sealed inside the lamp is carefully placed in relation to the lens, which is made up of over 50 optical elements, the slightest movement of the lamp itself often misplaces its precisely focused beam. Occasionally, just the innocent touch of bumpers as you back into a parking space will jar the other fellow's lamp out of position.

One of the quickest ways to detect a mis-aimed lamp on your own car is to watch the oncoming cars you pass.

IF, WHEN YOU dim your lights, the other driver dims his in response and suddenly brightens them again, it may be because your headlamp is shining directly in his eyes.

As a protection to yourself and others, it's a wise idea to have your lights checked at least twice a year when you leave your car for its motor tune-up.

Carefully trained mechanics in both service stations and garages can, with the aid of a headlamp adjusting machine, or an aiming screen, adjust your lamps so that the beam is in the proper position.

You'll understand why this is no job for an amateur when you realize that misalignment of just one degree means a displacement of five feet at a distance of 300 feet down the road.

Even properly aimed lamps must be used with thoughtful care. Make it a habit for both courtesy and safety always to depress your lights when passing cars.

THIS JINGLE may help you remember to use the proper beam at the proper time—"Use traffic beam always when cars are near. Use country beam only when road is clear."

To that you might add "Have your headlamps aimed twice a year," for you may want to clip this and put it in your glove compartment as a reminder to check your car lighting.

GENERAL ELECTRIC President Charles E. Wilson urges the Senate armed services committee to pass legislation for selective service, stockpiling strategic materials and scientific research program as well as universal military training. (International)

3 County Men In Trade School

Three Pickaway County men have enrolled for a 50-week course at the Ohio School of Trades, Columbus.

They are Albert Canter of Laureville, Edward Roper Jr. of Orient, and Robert J. Walters Jr. of Derby.

They will be trained in machine shop, engine laboratory, carburetion, ignition, chassis and other divisions. They attend classes five hours each day, Monday through Friday.

Scientists Find Clock With No Moving Parts

CAMDEN, N. J., April 1—An electronic clock—with NO moving parts—and an electronic stop-watch are two of the more sensational products to evolve from America's war-time and post-war electronic research.

THE CLOCK is, perhaps, the more intriguing of the two instruments because it has immediate consumer value. Developed—as was the counter—by the Radio Corporation of America, the clock has no motors, wheels, mainsprings, or hands.

Instead, it consists of more than 170 electron tubes which count the 60-second pulsations of ordinary commercial electric current, and indicate that count by means of lights on the clock face in seconds, minutes and hours.

Spokesmen for RCA predict

Wilberforce Tiff Is Continuing

XENIA, April 1—A transcript of evidence already presented was to be read today in the court fight by the church forces at Wilberforce university to get the

that the electronic clock will form the basis of the household timepiece of tomorrow.

The electronic stop-watch, or "time interval counter" is an instrument constructed chiefly for scientific research, without any apparent large-scale consumer value.

The watch accurately clocks one-millionth of a second. This property made it particularly valuable in the timing of bullet and shell velocities during the war.

It permits the exact measurement—to the fifth decimal place—of velocities or accelerations up to one second, and in steps of one-millionth of a second. It can count speeds of as high as one million movements per second.

state part of the school out of O'Neill Hall.

Wednesday, Common Pleas Judge Frank L. Johnson allowed the church to substitute ejectment procedure for a contempt suit. The church admitted it was wrong in filing the original contempt action.

The state claims it financed the construction of the women's dormitory while the state claims it built the hall and maintained it for more than 50 years.

Super-Cushion TIRES BY GOODYEAR

Super-Cushions give you a remarkable new ease in car handling. Your car hugs the road, seems to float through traffic, to flow around curves.

Super-Cushions soak up crosswise jolts, soak up vibration. Results: less driving fatigue, less wear and tear on your car.

Super-Cushions consistently average more mileage than the best standard tires. More — they make small cars ride like big ones... make big cars ride better.

Super-Cushions run cooler; and because they're softer they "roll with the punch", are harder to cut, bruise or blow out. Arrange now for a Super-Cushion test run on your car.

TEST OF A PARTY

IF WALLACE gets 5,000,000 votes, as his followers hope, does this mean the beginning of a new party? Not necessarily, as the history of the last two great third-party movement show. They prove that the real strength of a party lies not in the votes for the man at the top, but in the number of lesser offices which it controls.

Theodore Roosevelt's Progressives in 1912 polled 4,100,000 votes, 700,000 more than President Taft on the Republican ticket, with 88 Roosevelt electors to eight for Taft. Yet the Progressives elected but 19 Congressmen out of 435, and no governors. The Progressive voters were paying a personal tribute to T. R., not forming a new party. This was proved in 1914, when with no Roosevelt at the head of the ticket, the popular vote dropped below 2,000,000, and the congressmen dwindled to seven. In 1916 the party disappeared altogether.

Robert M. La Follette, the elder, polled 4,800,000 votes for president in 1924, carrying his own state of Wisconsin with 13 electoral votes. No Congressmen were elected on his Progressive ticket, and the party did not enter future elections.

The Wallace Progressives obviously will have to support and elect candidates to minor offices if they hope to become and remain an important party.

HONOR FOR PIONEER

AT THE city of Totma, in the Vologda district of Russia, far north of Moscow and east of Leningrad, there is being erected a monument to a pioneer explorer of California and Alaska. It will honor Ivan Alexandrovich Kuskov, who spent 32 years in what was then the wilderness of western America.

Kuskov was the leader of a Russian party which established Fort Ross on the California coast in 1812. For almost thirty years the Russians used the fort to trade with the Spaniards, finally abandoning it in 1841. Meanwhile Kuskov had trekked northward to Alaska, but there he appears to have left no permanent mark.

After the abandonment of Fort Ross, Kuskov returned to his native town, where he died a year later. His former home is today a museum.

Scientists at Rutgers University are trying to produce a temperature of absolute zero. Americans who have gone through this Winter's cold stretch will be inclined to say, "There's no accounting for tastes."

The future of this globe may depend mainly on Russians and Americans getting along together.

Maybe it hasn't occurred to the coal strikers that there will be a lot of cold weather next Winter.

'Round Circleville - - - - - Hour by Hour

Up to a clearing morning and noted that the night had brought enough moisture to temporarily delay plowing. Much of the soil turning had been in progress the day and evening before. Also saw the bottomlands clear of water to the west and was pleased. Wondered about the carp grabbers who this day would be out in great numbers at ponds left in the lowlands, taking many a hearty meal from the holes.

Heard about Tom Brannon and the carp he took out of Dry Run at Bell's Siding. Up there one evening with a heavy pole and a can of worms. Came away with 100 pounds of carp. Back again bright and early the next morning and captured enough to fill a two bushel grain sack. Many were so large they broke lines and got away. Tom distributed the fish among some of the colored folk in the South End and this day they are feasting. Tom's a real fisherman. Fishes for muskies, great northern, lak-ers and bass during his Summer vacation in the Northland. Does bass fishing around here when the streams are right. But he is not the kind of smooty sportsman who sneers at carp because they are not game fish. He catches them and has a great fun doing it.

Noted that Wallace fears that the Truman foreign policy is leading us to war. Henry apparently is unaware that Americans would rather go to war and even go down fighting than give up without a struggle as Henry would have us do.

But if we ever do come under the heel of a dictator the experience will not be particularly new to most men. Yes, the married ones who declare they wear the pants in their homes.

Chatted with Harry Sohn, just back from a pair of weeks in Florida and returned sooner than expected because of storm damage on his farm. Has been going to the Southland for many a Winter and thinks it great. So does Meeker Terwilliger, who told of the balmy weather and great opportunity to relax.

Heard that the GE plant is supposed to be under roof by the middle of July. About 13 acres of it. That's a lot of work, but if the goal is set it will be reached. Trains bringing in building material every day and the ground work advancing despite the sloppy underfooting.

In came Harold Dresbach and deep in work after a fine vacation spent in California. Greatest vacationland in the world, he declares. Now owns a fine beach site for the home he will build one day. Prices booming out there. Paid $4,200 for his lot and has refused $15,000. Something like Circleville.

And from the Northland came literature on the vacation attractions up there. As though I had to be sold. The others are welcome to Florida and California, Arizona, New Mexico and the like. Our neighbor to the North is expecting 20,000,000 visitors from the U. S. this Summer. Thank goodness only a comparative few are fishermen, the others sightseers. Plenty to see up there, too. Quebec, for instance, as typically France as France itself. Trouble is that they do not understand their own language as I speak it. And they talk too fast for me. So, I just point and get a smile and results.

George E. Sokolsky's

These Days

For a year now, we have been looking at a television instrument. Most of the looking is done by the younger members of the family who like fights, wrestling, basketball and the doings of the "small fry".

Whenever I want to see something, the set kicks up. Either some doctor's diathermy it at work, or an amateur is experimenting, or planes are overhead. We are always having mechanics about the place who leave fingerprints on the walls and woodwork and get paid for it. Certainly, nothing ought to go wrong so often and yet be in such good condition. It is like the doctor who tells the patient he is in prime shape, but the patient drops dead as he leaves the doctor's office.

The other day, I appeared on video and it was a beastly ordeal because the lights produce too much heat. Also, nobody told me not to slump in my seat, so when I did, the lights made my middle resemble that of Man Mountain Dean. However, it was a gay experience, particularly as I said precisely what I wanted to say and the audience could see an attempt made to stop me.

I see by the newspapers that David Sarnoff, who runs the Radio Corporation of America and is a very shrewd home brewer, having come up the very hard way, appraises video almost as revolutionary in political consequences. He said:

"We have but to recall the tremendous effect of radio broadcasting upon the social and political life of the nation to look forward to the profound effect which television is certain to have on domestic habits and politics."

He is so right about that. Radio made it possible for a lunkhead to read a ghost-written speech, after having had some specialist teach him how to modulate his voice in such a manner that it came over the radio entertainingly. For example, Franklin D. Roosevelt had a perfect radio voice after he had been taught by experts. He wrote few speeches himself. There used to be bets over who prepared which paragraph. The script was marked up like a musical score. It came over wonderful.

On the other hand, men like Herbert Hoover or Robert A. Taft do not sound so well on the radio because they have never gone in for voice culture and fancy pauses and suspense and such things. In a word, they speak politics but are not auditioning to become a professional radio announcer who is hired for his voice.

Television will change that, and change it radically. The uninspired face, the fellow with his tongue in his cheek will be exposed.

For instance, Harry Truman, on television, looks better than he reads, except when he is doing gymnastics on the deck of a battleship. When he does gymnastics, he looks like an old man showing off to his youngest grandchild. But most of the time, he gives the impression of a sincere man, trying to get along. His words are weak and his voice is awful, but he evokes friendship and sympathy. Nobody can teach that. It is in the personality.

It is the result of klieg lights on the subconscious. That is why many movies are spoiled by their stars: they speak of great spiritual purity but their eyes look as though they had taken too many flings. Makeup cannot change that—but when it comes to actors, most people don't care. For as that comic paper, The New Yorker, once said, in an effort to confound an argument, an actor on the stage is not obligated to mirror his own life, and vice versa.

DIET AND HEALTH

Reasons for Tonsillectomy

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

THESE days operation to remove the tonsils is much less common than it was even ten years ago. There was a time when removal of the tonsils was considered almost a cure-all for the ailments of childhood. Nowadays the operation is undertaken only when some definite condition in the tonsils seems to be actively endangering the child's health.

The principal justification for removing the tonsils in either adults or children is recurrent attacks of infection. If a child of five years or older has three attacks of acute tonsillitis in a year, many physicians think the tonsils should be taken out.

Abscess Formed
The operation should also be done if an abscess has formed in the tissues around the tonsils because, once this has happened, it is likely to occur again unless the tonsils are removed. Furthermore, the occurrence of such abscesses means that there is infection deep in the tonsils.

Enlargement of the tonsils, as well as the adenoids, may block the breathing passages. When such blocking occurs, in a child under five years of age, removal of the adenoids alone often is sufficient to permit normal breathing through the nose. Thus, today there is less tendency to remove the tonsils just because it has been decided that the adenoids should be taken out.

Glands Enlarge
In the neck there are glands known as lymph glands. When the tonsils are infected, these glands enlarge. If such enlargements remain over a long period of time, removal of the tonsils is probably advisable. Still another reason for removing the tonsils is deafness due to blocking of the tube which connects the throat with the middle ear. Of course, the adenoids as well should be removed in such cases.

Cases of Asthma
Sometimes removal of the tonsils is suggested in cases of asthma or nasal allergy when there is a continuous mucous discharge from the nose. However, the operation is seldom of much benefit in these cases and has been thought to aggravate the asthma in some instances.

Removal of the tonsils may also be considered in chronic arthritis and in kidney inflammations. Of course, the physician will have to decide in such cases whether or not there is a likelihood that the tonsils are acting as a focus of infection, in which germs and their poisons are passed into the blood and carried to other parts of the body. If he believes this is the case, then operation on the tonsils will probably be of benefit.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

A Reader: I have large black spots which appear on my chin. These last from two to ten days. What causes them?

Answer: It is impossible to tell the cause of this condition without an examination. It is advisable that you consult a skin specialist.

Skin disorders may come from such things as infections, sensitivity to chemicals with which the skin comes in contact, nervous disorders, and other causes.

DON'T MAKE IT EASY

WHEN a defender can't find any sure way to beat the contract, he at least should try to make the declarer's job as difficult as possible. To play in such a way as to eliminate any guess for his opponent is to act the part of a fool, whether the date be April 1 or some other time. Such a decision often confronts you when a lead is made toward a king-jack combination in the dummy. Playing your ace right away takes the guess out of it for the declarer, whereas a low card leaves him wondering what is best to do.

West picked the heart 3 for his lead. The Q losing to the A. South for reasons best known to himself, followed his taking out of trumps with the A and K by working on the diamonds. He led the J to the K and A, then gave up a diamond to the Q. Ruffing the heart return, he scored the diamond 10 and 9, then led the spade 4.

If West had played low, South would have had a bit of a problem to make his contract; he said later that he would have put in the J. If he had, that would have set him. But West came right in with the A on the first spade and thereby eliminated all guess for the declarer.

South, by that playing plan, was just as foolish as West proved. After taking out trumps, he should have worked on the spades, not the diamonds, by leading low from his own hand and then coming up with the K if West played low. West was much more likely to have the Spade A than East, since he made the first overall. In any event, guessing the spades right would have made it unnecessary to get any break in diamonds, as losers there could have been thrown on spades. Playing as South did, he took chances of bad luck in two suits, spades and diamonds, instead of in just one.

CHAPTER THIRTY-TWO

TONY looked at his wife, and Kit and Mike and Tracy looked at her, too. For Anita had backed away in horror and ugly sounds were coming from her pretty painted mouth.

"So this is your idea of a job? Is this your idea of a secret or a joke? How dare you come back to me like this? How dare you fool me!"

Tony said, "I came back to you with my self-respect, Anita. I brought it along. I found it with a group of other men who for various reasons have joined up again—some because it meant a home and a job and three meals a day, others for more patriotic reasons. Mine was a combination of both. I wanted to tell you. I wanted you to be glad with me but I knew there'd be another scene and another quarrel and I'd probably back down again to please you. I had to do it this way! I'm sorry I had to fool you. I had a friend in New York forward my letters to you. But I've been thinking about this for weeks, Anita. Being in the army, working and training beside other men, having discipline and regular hours were what I needed to put me back on my feet again. I'd gone soft."

"And what do you expect me to do while you build up your muscles in the army?"

"If you can't live on my ninety dollars a month income and what I can send you out of my army pay—and I'll send you everything except enough to keep me in cigarettes—you'll have to get a job. You're young and healthy. You have what passes for an education..."

"And you expect me to live on ninety dollars a month and some pittance from your army pay? Aren't you forgetting who I am? How dare you suggest..."

"I know who you are Anita. You've never let me forget it. But you are also my wife."

"I was. But I won't be. I'm going to Reno for a divorce. I wouldn't live with you another day!"

"That's up to you. But Reno costs money. So does Florida. Anita, the halcyon days are over. You can't live in an ivory tower any more. It isn't what you get but what you give. There's going to be less getting and more giving. Ask Tracy. Every year more and more of her money is taken from her. There's a leveling process going on. Snobbishness is as passe as prohibition." He looked at Mike. "Am I right, Mike?"

Anita cried, "Do you think that anything he says can possibly influence me, that..."

Mike chuckled. "Be careful. I'm a writer these days. I have a new suit. I'm coming up in the world..."

Tracy said, "Mike is right. You're holding onto a bubble, Anita."

"It's just fine talk," Anita said. Her voice was shrill. "It's only talk. How dare you humiliate me like this, Tony? How dare you lie to me..."

"I didn't lie to you." "I opened my charge accounts and bought things..."

"You'll have to send them back." "I'll do nothing of the kind. I'll go. If Tracy doesn't want me..."

"Stop talking like an idiot," Tracy said sharply. "You're more welcome than ever."

"Thank you, Tracy." She looked at Tony again, her dark eyes blazing. "What you do in the future is none of my concern. I don't love you and you can't love me to humiliate me like this! I'm through! I don't have to go to work. I don't have to degrade myself to that extent. I'm sure there are other men who'd want to marry me. Several others did want me..."

"It's a damned shame they didn't," Mike said.

Tracy said, "You don't mean that, Anita."

Tony said, "I knew you'd be shocked and disappointed but I thought if I explained how I felt, that I was happy..."

"You have explained how you feel! You've done admirably. You've talked yourself out of a wife. I'm sorry that I can't share in the admiration of these—these other people. Go back to your job—if you can call it that. I'm going."

"Not to your parents," Tony said. "It's because I don't want to be a middle-aged object of charity that I've done this. People are sorry for your parents, Anita. They overstayed their welcome long ago."

"My mother and father are popular people. They're invited everywhere."

Tony shook his head. "This doesn't get us anywhere. Very well, I'll go."

Tracy said, "Kit, will you find Cecil and tell him to take Tony to the station." To Anita she said, "Don't be an utter fool. Do you realize what this means? You're sending Tony away from you. You're certainly a failure as a wife..."

"It's no use," Tony said. "No use, Tracy. You're wasting your time and words. I'm sorry your marital grievances had to be aired like this. Not in very good taste certainly. Not becoming a Merryman and a Curtis. Good-bye. I'll go with Kit to the garage..."

Tracy said, "You'll let me hear from you, Tony..."

"Of course. Thanks a lot."

Mike said, "If I can be of any help, let me know. If you want anything..."

"Sure. Thanks." Head up, eyes defiant, Anita hurried toward the house.

Tony overtook Kit as she was walking to the garage. They did not say anything. Kit knew he was hurt, that it would be stupid to offer platitudes.

Cecil sprang to attention and beamed.

"You in the army again, Mistah Tony..."

Tony nodded. "Yes, Cecil. I want to go to the station. I—I have to get back." He turned to Kit and held out his hand. "I still think I'm right. I've been feeling great. I've been feeling that I was of some use to myself again. I've been feeling as I did at school when winning a game was the most important and most exciting thing in the world. I don't even mind getting up early. The milkman has to get up even earlier. His face was long in its soberness, a lean, tanned, boyish face. What she said about it—got me. Well, good-bye, Kit."

"I think you're right, too. I know you are. Maybe she'll..."

"Yes, maybe. Don't be too hard on her in your thoughts. She was raised to be what she is. But the rules in the game of living have changed radically since then. I'm ready, Cecil."

Cecil beamed again. "Yassah, Mistah Tony."

Kit joined Tracy and Mike. Mike's eyes were bright with anger. "Why don't you put her out, Tracy? It would teach her some sense. She'd have to get a job. She'd learn more in one week than in all her other years put together. She'd go crawling back to Tony."

"I'd like to but I can't. She'd starve."

"That kind never starves. They always find somebody to take care of them. The cursed thing is they're in love with each other..."

"You're staying for dinner, aren't you, Mike?"

"No, thanks. Some other time. I've got to get back to town. Come to think of it, I could have driven Tony back to town, but what with all the shouting going on, it didn't occur to me."

Tracy said, "Then you can take Mac and the baby back. Kit, find Mac and tell her that Mike will take her and the baby. Tell her to spend the night with her daughter if she wants to. But I want to see Diane before she goes. With all the chewing she's done today, she surely must have another tooth. They say 'cutting teeth,' don't they?"

YOUR FUTURE

Your standing will be advanced if you are right on your toes, but don't be too aggressive. It would be advisable to concentrate on business rather than on social and romantic matters during your coming year. Some deception and disappointments may come to you in this period (as come to all), but try not to be over-sensitive.

JOBS UPON A TIME

Tall, good-looking film star Robert Young has one of the longest lists of screen credits among Hollywood's top performers. He is now celebrating his 16th anniversary in pictures, and in his last two films he was co-producer as well as star. Bob first became interested in acting while taking part in a high school play in Los Angeles. Needing a regular pay check, however, Bob sidetracked his stage ambitions and went to work as collector for a building company, labored in a bowling alley and worked as bank teller. Given a letter of introduction to the Pasadena Community Players, during the next four years Bob appeared in 45 productions before winning a leading role. He was in silent pictures and has been in sound films since 1932.

Screen Star Ginger Rogers (real name Virginia Katherine McMath), was born in Independence, Mo. Her career started on the vaudeville stage. She was in the musical revue "Girl Crazy." Ginger has been on the screen since 1930, was voted among the 10 top money-making stars in 1935 and 1937, and won the Academy Award for the best performance by an actress in 1940, for her work in the late Christopher Morley's "Kitty Foyle."

HAPPY BIRTHDAY

Wallace Beery, movie star, and Eddy Duchin, musician, first saw the light of day on this date.

IT HAPPENED TODAY

On April 1, 1765, the Stamp Act was passed by the British House of Lords in England. In 1939, same date, the United States accorded Generalissimo Francisco Franco of Spain full recognition at the conclusion of the Spanish civil war. William Harvey, English physician and discoverer of the circulation of the human blood, was born in 1578.

HOW'D YOU MAKE OUT?

1. An army battalion is made up of three rifle companies, commanded by a major or lieutenant colonel, and ranks between a company and regiment in size.

2. "Grand slam" is Bridge; high, low, jack and the game" is Seven-Up; "fifteen two," etc., Cribbage; "nullo and 500" are virtually synonymous, and "queen of spades" is important in Hearts.

Achievement Day Marked By Home Council Group

Parish House Site For Meet

Achievement day for Pickaway County homemakers groups took place Wednesday at an all-day meeting in the parish house of St. Philip's Episcopal church.

Mrs. J. B. Stevenson of Wayne Township, who is home council president, was in charge. Mrs. Ralph Dunkle and Mrs. Wayne Luckhart accompanied the members in group singing.

Miss Genevieve Alley, Pickaway County home demonstration agent, presented a review of the past year in home extension work. A contest was staged by Mrs. Judson Beougher and Mrs. Harley Lutz of Salt Creek township.

A style review consisting of dresses made in the various sewing projects were displayed under the direction of Mrs. C. V. Neal of the Darby group.

Mrs. Rajammal Devadas, native of India, who is studying home economics and education at Ohio State university, was guest speaker at the afternoon session.

Appearing in a native costume of blue silk edged in gold braid and a wedding necklace instead of the customary wedding ring, she spoke fluently in English on "Home Life in India."

Mrs. Devadas told the group she would remain in the United States for two years before returning to India, her husband and their son. She said she never had been out of her native land until coming to America.

A group from Walnut Township offered a song stunt. Miss Alley spoke on "Looking Forward To Next Year" at the conclusion of the program.

More Clinics Asked In Cancer Fight

Local Drive Set To Aid Program

An increasingly cancer-conscious America is mobilizing to reduce the rising toll of human life.

Clarence Rushing, Circleville Route, chairman of the Pickaway County cancer society campaign seeking $2,000 during April to combat the dread disease, said that throughout the nation 324 cancer information centers have been established, along with 185 detection centers and 497 cancer clinics. The majority of these have sprung up since 1945.

Officials of the American Cancer Society have requested that contributions be sent to Rushing's home and office, Circleville Route 1. Proper receipt will be returned to the donor. Already small contribution cans are appearing in the downtown Circleville business district. Others are to be distributed in smaller towns in the county.

The information centers are sources of public education against the disease which claimed about 188,000 American lives during 1947.

Trained personnel disseminate information about the "danger" signs of cancer, direct patients to competent medical aid and work with welfare agencies to provide attention for needy cancer patients.

The detection centers, which have increased sevenfold in number during the last two years, are for well people who wish to take periodic check-ups against hidden symptoms of cancer.

Clinics provide consultative services of specialists for those ill of cancer. Here the modern and still scarce weapons for treatment are brought to bear against the disease under skilled hands.

Volunteer workers of the American Cancer Society, besides helping in information and detection centers, and clinics, perform a large variety of jobs in the cause of cancer control.

Last year they made 3,150,000 dressings, organized transportation corps, operated loan and gift closets to supply sick-room comforts, provided home care and many other tasks.

About $500,000 is spent by ACS divisions annually to provide terminal care for advanced cases.

Despite the rapid growth of these services, they have not begun to meet the needs of the nation.

The ACS now is seeking to double its present membership of 1,000,000 volunteer workers.

To provide one clinic for every 100,000 people 893 additional clinics must be established, according to an estimate by the American College of Surgeons.

To meet this goal more cancer specialists are needed. And the

Akron Transit Crews Strike

AKRON, April 1—Akron's transportation system came to a screeching halt today as Akron Transportation Co., bus drivers struck in demand of a 30-cent hourly wage increase.

Public service was completely paralyzed in the metropolis of 330,000.

Eleventh hour negotiations early today failed to bring about a halt in the strike plans of the drivers' union and the independent machinists' union.

Final hopes of preventing the strike faded last night when the ATC refused an Akron city council proposal for fare increases.

Resources Wane In U.S. Claim

WASHINGTON, April 1—Rep. Hope, (R) Kans., warned today that the United States is approaching a point where it will be unable to feed and clothe the people properly unless remaining natural resources are protected.

Hope, chairman of the House agriculture committee, proposes legislation to unify and strengthen federal conservation practices.

The congressman explained that under present conservation programs the nation is losing about 500,000 acres of crop land per year through erosion, silting and other preventable causes.

number of information and detection centers should be multiplied to meet the needs of almost all areas.

'Moon Madness' Plagues Phone Operators

SAN FRANCISCO, April 1—Telephone operators at San Francisco police headquarters are beginning to believe that those stories about "madness" and the full moon have some truth in them.

The operators claim that their switchboards are jammed with "nuisance calls" when the moon is full and in addition that there are more suicide calls at that particular time of the month.

Mrs. Sue Schram, senior operator, says that during the war many people called in when the moon was full to report "Nazi attacks."

Now she says, she often gets calls from people saying their heads are acting as radio receivers and that they are jolting down important messages for the FBI.

NO STATISTICS have been compiled on the strange connection between the moon and the nuisance calls.

Dr. Norman Reider, chief psychiatrist at Mount Zion Hospital, when asked his opinion on the matter guardedly commented: "I don't know if there is any validity to it or not. The fact that those things have been traditionally associated with moon changes may have some bearing on the acts."

The operators say that week-end always brings one chief complaint, full moon or no full moon. The end of the week is the time for wife-beating or other domestic squabbles.

City Organizes Against False Auto Claims

PITTSBURGH, April 1—A code of fair play to apply to all used car advertising in an effort to eliminate exaggerations recently went into effect in all Pittsburgh daily newspapers.

The code was adopted after The Better Business Bureau and Pittsburgh's three daily papers made an analysis of the many public complaints involving purchasing of used cars.

G. H. Dennison, manager of the Pittsburgh bureau, said it was prepared "to eliminate causes of all public complaint in the used car field."

The code eliminates such advertising phrases as: "We Pay More," "Highest Prices," "You Pay Less Here," "Car Guarantee," and "Never Driven."

Second Judge Dies; Cuyahoga Bench Empty

CLEVELAND, April 1—Governor Thomas J. Herbert was faced with another common pleas court vacancy to fill today following the death of Cuyahoga County Judge Frank S. Day.

Judge Day, 65, died of coronary thrombosis late yesterday in his room at the Hotel Hollenden in Cleveland. Judge Day and his wife, Susan, were packing for a six weeks' trip to California at the time of his death.

The heart attack was the second suffered by the juror in the past four months. He was forced to take a six weeks' rest following the first attack.

Gov. Herbert yesterday appointed Harry Hanna, his Cleveland law partner, to fill the vacancy created in common pleas court by the death of Judge Stanley L. Orr several weeks ago.

Livestock Sale Volume Declines Here Wednesday

Volume of sales at the Pickaway County Livestock Association auctions took a drop Wednesday when only 840 head were offered as compared to 1,016 sold last week.

Prices had their ups and downs, the cattle market showing a general upward swing, hogs fluctuating high and low and calves taking a decided cut in price.

Most noticeable increase in Wednesday's transactions was in the sale of steers and heifers, good, which jumped $1 above last week's quotations, selling for $28-$29 Wednesday as compared to $27-$28 last week.

Prices on calves, however, were quoted at from three to four dollars a head less this week than at last week's sale, largest drop seen in the sale of medium to good calves, which sold at $24-$28 Wednesday coma gun and ordered him under the wheel.

Beckmann said the bandit with the gun shot him when he reached for the ignition key. After taking the $900 out of his pocket, the three bandits fled. The shooting victim was taken to a hospital with a four-inch-long bullet crease across his abdomen.

British Relax Travel Ruling

LONDON, April 1—The British had been complaining bitterly to the Treasury in London that they are regarded as "pikers" and "skinflints" when travelling overseas.

This is because, on their meager travel allowance, they cannot afford to tip. The Treasury recently relented. British people, going abroad, are now allowed up to two pounds, ($8) in silver, in addition to the sum of five pounds in notes.

HE'S QUITE AN ACTOR

Wallace Has Top Talent When Putting On A Show

By KENNETH L. DIXON

WASHINGTON, April 1—Along about the first of April would seem as good a time as any to take a hand in the general discussion about Henry Wallace and his probable effect on the elections next Fall.

However, before anybody jumps to any hasty conclusions on the subject, it might be wiser to pause a moment and wonder just who is being fooled.

For example, in all the puzzlement over how Henry has managed to scare up the following he now claims, nobody has bothered to point out one simple thing:

The Iowa is quite a actor—and the crowd always gets a good show for its money.

Of course, some of those in the audience may sometimes tend to confuse the actor with the character whose part he is playing, but then that has always happened with some Thespians.

IN ANY CASE, the Wallace background is studded with examples of times when he put on a beautifully effective act—and whether it was sincere or not depends on your opinion of Henry.

For instance, there was the time in New Mexico when he was running for vice-president with the late FDR. Senator Dennis Chavez had arranged a meeting, and the audience was composed some 90 per cent of people of Spanish-American descent.

Majority of them were bilingual, and were quite accustomed to having touring candidates speak to them in English, after apologizing for their ignorance of Spanish—or else not even mention their lack.

At first Wallace seemed to belong to the latter school, for he simply started his speech in English.

Then, about halfway through, without warning he suddenly shifted to almost perfect Spanish—and finished the speech in that language.

The effect was electric. For a moment the crowd simply sat and stared. Then they rose to their feet and cheered and cheered—and Henry just stood there, smiling as though to say: "Why, didn't you know I spoke Spanish?"

LATER, of course, his Spanish did become as fluent as it seemed that day, but we discovered that he had merely memorized, with good coaching, the words for the rest of his speech.

It was an excellent act, and won him plenty of votes in New Mexico.

Recently, in Palestine, I heard more stories of such acts when Wallace visited the Holy Land some time back.

Once the head waiter at the Kaete Dan hotel in Tel Aviv arrived about 5 o'clock in the morning, to find Henry sitting out on the terrace just outside the dining room. Flustered, he apologized for not knowing that the great man wanted breakfast so early.

"No, no," Wallace replied kindly. "I'm in no hurry. It's just that this hour of the day is the only time I can really be alone, so I take advantage of it. I'm not ready to eat yet. Don't worry."

So, despite the fact that he could have had much more privacy and solitude in his room, or even strolling along the beach or the streets of Tel Aviv, Wallace sat there on the terrace and made like "The Thinker"—while all the hotel's help passed the word around, and a crowd gathered to see the great man being alone.

It was a good act. They were still describing it when I left.

Later, he visited the little settlement of Ein Gev, on the shores of the Sea of Galilee. In the fishing village lived a young man who had visited America months before and had met Wallace at a party.

HE WAS AMONG the huge crowd of settlers who crowded down to the water's edge when Wallace arrived by boat from the other side.

Suddenly, from the boat, Wallace spotted him, and waved his arm and yelled as follows:

"Hey there, John! Remember me? Henry Wallace. Remember?"

The young man was quite embarrassed, but the crowd was delighted at the pure and sincere simplicity of the great man. He bowed 'em. He obviously didn't even realize that great crowd was gathered there for the sole purpose of greeting him—it says here.

Probably he thought they were there to witness the Second Coming. On second thought, maybe he did!

Dairy Peak, located in the Nezperce Forest in Idaho Co., Idaho, was so named because of Charles A. Rice, who, in early days, delivered milk by pack string to people on the Salmon river.

Amos R. Whipp representing the Industrial Commission of Ohio, has been in Circleville to interest industrialists in the eighteenth annual session of the All Ohio Safety Congress, to be held in Columbus, April 13, 14 and 15.

"This annual conference," said Whipp, "is held for the purpose of stimulating interest in accident prevention, particularly in the other phases of safety are included in the program."

"The 1947 accident record for Ohio industry, which showed a marked increase in the number disease claims filed with the Industrial commission provides an incentive for contriving ways and means of reducing accident hazards and thereby lowering the needlessly high levels of accident frequency and severity."

"It is expected that upward of 3,000 representatives of industry, the majority of them in supervisory capacities or accredited representatives of organized labor, will take part in the sessions and many new ideas for controlling specific accident hazards are expected to be developed in the addresses and discussions."

Public Poll Supports Labor Law

Third Of People Ignorant Of Act

NEW YORK, April 1—Supporters of the Taft-Hartley law have been winning the battle to keep public opinion on their side of the fence, according to a study conducted recently by "Modern Industry" magazine of industrial management.

The survey was conducted for the magazine by Ross Federal Research Corporation throughout the industrial East. Union members and non-union members alike were polled.

The magazine learned that two people in three (66 percent) have heard of the act. Sixty-nine percent of non-union members are acquainted with the law and 57 percent of union members know about it.

Of the 66 percent who know about the law, 48 percent agreed that it gives the worker more protection, and 47 percent thought that it would make for more labor peace.

The "PROTECTION" opinion was held by 31 percent of union members and 53 percent of non-union members. The "peace" opinion was shared by 30 percent union members and 52 percent non-union members.

Thirty-nine percent of the 66 percent responding, thought that the Taft-Hartley Act was a better law than the Wagner Act. Twenty-two percent disagreed and 39 percent didn't know. The affirmative opinion was held by 18 percent union members and 45 percent non-union members.

Forty-six percent of the respondents thought that the law "will oust Communists from labor leadership." This view was held by 53 percent of union members and 49 percent non-union members.

Asked if the law "makes all strikes illegal," 61 percent disagreed. The disagreement was shared by 57 percent union members and 63 percent non-union members.

Fifty-seven percent disagreed that the law "takes away most New Deal labor gains," a view shared by 62 percent non-union members and 43 percent union members. Sixty-seven percent voiced disagreement that the Act was a "slave-labor law," and 73 percent of non-union members held the same view.

Squashes Have New Look and Taste

By DEAN HALUDAY

Distributed by Central Press Association

SQUASHES have stepped out with that new look and taste and are gaining in popularity for Freedom gardens.

There has been a pronounced improvement in flavor and texture of the flesh of many new varieties. New methods of cooking also result in squash appearing on the table with the taste unimpaired.

Many gardeners still shy away from squashes if their planting area is small for the reason that it requires considerable room. Nevertheless, it is one of the best vegetables to grow for winter use, as it can be stored in a warm cellar, canned or frozen.

For summer use, bush squash and vegetable marrows are best suited to the Freedom garden. The new winter varieties, Buttercup and Butternut, have quickly become rivals of the older types in popularity.

In View Of The News

By J. C. Oestreicher
INS Foreign Observer

The growing movement at the inter-American conference in Bogota to end European colonization in the Western Hemisphere raised today a highly debatable point.

Namely, do the people of the European-held colonies in the Americas actually want to be liberated from what is termed the British, French or Dutch "yoke?"

Venezuela now has joined Guatemala in a resolution designed to abolish the colonial system. Chile and Argentina already have made an open issue of their dispute with Great Britain over the Antarctic dependencies.

For some years there has been a trend in the West Indies and elsewhere for more representative national governments. But even the most extreme nationalists like Alexander Bustamante, the mayor of Kingston, Jamaica, and an outstanding labor leader over-all rule from London.

THE ACTUAL situation is best typified in the British colonies which are working toward a federation which ultimately will seek dominion status within the commonwealth.

This movement already has reached a stage where each of the island assemblies has appointed a member of a standing committee which eventually will transmit to London a fully worked-out federation plan.

Many observers feel there is little sound reason for any of the colonies to wish withdrawal.

It is not generally understood that Britain collects no taxes from the colonies. All collections are used for local governments and improvements.

As a matter of fact, Britain not long ago called on her badly-strained treasury to put up almost half a billion dollars for what is known as the colonial development and welfare act.

Just as Chile and Argentina have territorial claims, Venezuela and Guatemala have border differences, one with British Honduras and the other with British Guiana.

THEIR MOTIVES in demanding an end to the colonial system may be purely altruistic.

They may be thinking more of future migrations to the west by dissatisfied European peoples than to eliminating the status quo.

But whatever the reason, their proposals quite obviously are arousing little enthusiasm in the Western hemisphere islands and nations where foreign flags now fly.

The chiquitos have been clamoring for more. Recently, a Pan-American Clipper carrying nearly nine tons of bubble-blowing cargo flew to Maracaibo.

Jamaica Set For Opener

NEW YORK, April 1—Metropolitan racing's 196-day golden harvest will have its 1948 premiere at Jamaica today with the featured running of the $30,000 Paumonok and all the hoop-dee-doo a New York opening can produce.

Jaded, case-hardened Broadway and the Long Island horse set are due to overflow the ancient but refurbished racing plant to its capacity of 36,000 for the inaugural, much as they did a year ago.

Even the prospect of rain isn't expected to chill the warmth of a customary New York welcome for a sport on which it annually lavishes a nine-figure "tab."

Beulah Seeking Court Writ

COLUMBUS, April 1—The Beulah Park Jockey Club today went to court in its effort to force the state racing commission to assign it dates for a running race meeting.

The club asked a writ of mandamus from the Franklin County common pleas court to compel the commission to act on its application for horse racing dates, with the Spring meeting to begin May 8, or else outright rejection of the application.

The commission has refused to act because of the alleged failure of the club to install "totes"—automatic pari-mutuel betting machines—at its Grove City track.

State Basketball Finals Getting Underway Today

COLUMBUS, April 1—The state high school basketball tournament, gala climax to the hopes and dreams of Ohio's 1,200 schoolboy quintets, jumped off to a fast start today in Columbus with four teams seeking to qualify for Saturday afternoon's Class B championship final.

It was Eaton of Preble County pitting its 21-2 won-lost record against once-defeated Glenford this afternoon.

At 8 p. m., Lima St. Rose (27-2) and North Canton (23-5) clash in the other Class B semifinal.

Tomorrow, a brilliant Class A crew takes over for its qualifiers.

Hamilton Catholic (26-1) and Coschocton (19-5) play the afternoon game, with undefeated Findlay seeking its 26th straight victory in the evening game with Canton South (23-1).

The Class B final is scheduled for 2:30 Saturday afternoon. The Class A championship goes on the block at 8 p. m.

Softball Loop Formation Due Here Sunday

Announcement of softball teams to be entered in the Circleville City League is expected Sunday following a meeting at 2 p. m. in Hanley's Tea Room of league and Ted Lewis Municipal park board officials.

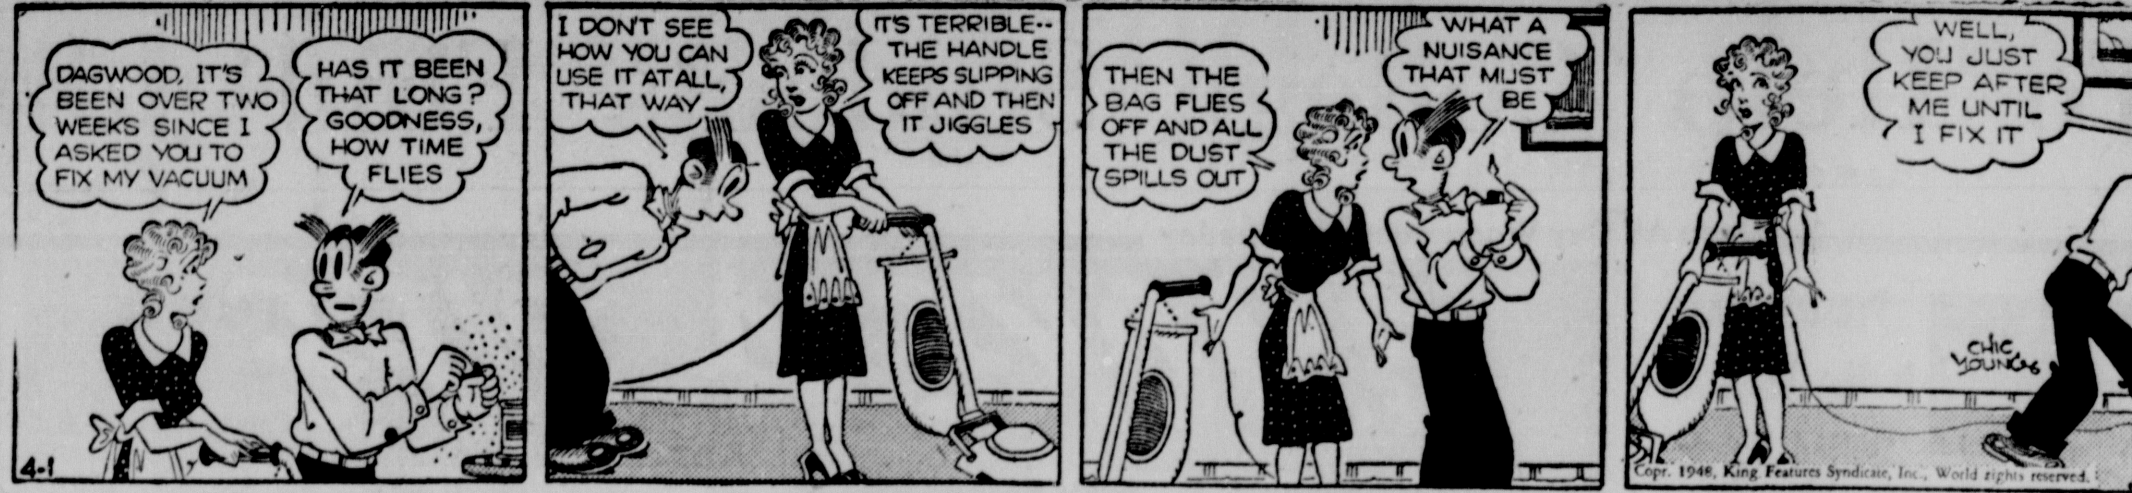

Members of the various softball teams in the City League, park board members and league commissioners are planning a showdown hearing not only on what teams will play, but what will be expected of the teams by the park commission.

It will be a husband vs. wife battle when Mike Frankovich, ex-football star and husband of actress Binnie Barnes, assumes the role of the man-who-strikes-back on Mutual's star-studded "Leave It To The Girls" broadcast Friday at 8:30 p. m.

Colonel Stoopnagle, comedian on the Vaughn Monroe Show, mindful that the beach season is approaching, says he has found out how a woman can pack her bathing suit neatly and keep it in press when she is going on a trip.

All she has to do is put it between a couple of half dollars!

The man whose pronunciations of two syllable words has produced unheard of results, Jimmy Durante, will bring his conversational gems to the Kraft Music Hall, Thursday, April 1, at 9:00 p. m. over NBC.

During his show, Jolson will sing "Latin from Manhattan," "You Were Meant for Me" and "Without A Song."

Al and pianist Oscar Levant will team up to do "Don't Let It Get You Down" and "I'd Climb the Highest Mountain."

An event cherished in memory for the past 28 years by the baseball coach at Chelsea high school, near Boston, will be revealed as the once-in-a-lifetime feature of the Mutual Network's week-day "Inside Of Sports" program broadcast Thursday at 7:45 p. m.

Sportscasters Bill Brandt and Joe Cumiskey will describe how a rookie pitcher, Al Pierotti, made his first and only victory as a major league pitcher when he hurled the Boston Braves to a victory over the New York Giants in 1920.

The defeat of the Giants clinched the pennant that year for the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Bill Lawrence, producer of "Screen Guild Players" on CBS Monday nights, notes that brains may be mightier than brawn-but they don't show up as well in a bathing suit.

Admiral W. H. Blandy, commander-in-chief of the U. S. Atlantic fleet, and Robert C. Ruark, Scripps-Howard syndicated columnist, will join regulars John Kieran and Franklin P. Adams for Mutual's "Information Please" session Friday at 9:30 p. m.

Clifton Fadiman is heard as the man who attempts to "stump the experts" with questions sent in by program listeners.

County BUC Office To Help College Students Find Jobs

Applications To Be Taken April 5

Signup Is Part Of State Plan

The Pickaway County Bureau of Unemployment Compensation will be one of 31 state offices to begin April 5 taking job applications of college students, both veteran and non-veteran, under a new statewide job development program.

C. C. Thomas, local BUC official, stated the program is being carried through by the state employment service, a BUC division, in cooperation with the veterans employment service.

It is specifically designed to aid college placement agencies to find jobs for graduates and competitive conditions.

A recent veterans employment service survey highlighted the need for a stepped-up college placement program when it revealed that the number of Ohio veteran graduates alone would double within the next two years.

THE SURVEY showed that more than 68,000 veterans were enrolled in Ohio colleges under the GI Bill of Rights as of December, 1947. College officials estimate that veterans will make up about 34 percent of the 1950 graduating class.

Registration of college seniors and other interested students is expected to be completed in 42 Ohio colleges and universities by April 24. The registration will be handled by the employment service representatives in personal interviews right on the various college campuses.

In a policy statement on the new college placement program, Thomas stressed the fact that the program's primary objective was to assist veterans "to find a job with a future." However, he said, non-veteran graduates "will be given the same consideration."

"Vast sums of money have been spent in training the veterans who will complete their education within the next few years," Thomas said. "We believe that everything possible should be done to assist these men and women to find jobs—to realize a return on this investment of time, money and effort."

Soaring Meet Is Scheduled

ELMIRA, N. Y., April 1—The 15th National Soaring Championships will be held at Harris Hill—"Glider Capital of America"—from June 30 through July 11.

This will be the 14th time in the 15 years in which the soaring contests have been held in America that Elmira has been the host city to pilots and crews from all over the world.

Another 'Dime March' Stated

ITHACA, April 1—Members of the State Federation of Home Bureaus have another "march of dimes."

They have been contributing dimes since 1922 toward scholarship funds to assist toward students at the State College of Home Economics at Cornell University. It is their expression of appreciation for home demonstration work.
